

In January, the Downtown Raleigh Alliance board of directors named long-time staff member Bill King President and CEO of the organization. Bill previously served as the senior vice president of planning and development. Bill officially began his role as President and CEO on February 8. Bill led and partnered with the City on several projects including the City's Downtown Raleigh Experience Plan and Dix Park planning committees.

From the Raleigh ED&I team, congratulations Bill! We look forward to our continued partnership and growth under your leadership.
